I need to talk to someone.

Everybody deals with traumatic events differently, but for many people, it is helpful to talk about the experience with someone else. Now, or at some point in your healing process, you may consider sharing your emotions, experience, and perspectives with someone that you trust. If you are having unhealthy or alarming feelings, it is important that you reach out to a trained mental health professional to help process these feelings.

I'm depressed or I've thought about hurting myself...

The Talley Center for Counseling Services can provide counseling and support for people experiencing mental health struggles. If the situation is an emergency and requires immediate assistance, UMW Campus Police can respond to the scene - call 540-654-4444. National Suicide Prevention Lifeline – call 1-800-273-8255.

I want to talk to the Director, Center for Prevention and Education (CPE)...

The Director, located within the Center for Prevention and Education (CPE), is a great place to start when you need more information. The director can offer information about options for services both on and off campus. They will provide support as you decide your next step. At your direction, the director can connect you with services with law enforcement, medical professionals, or the Title IX Coordinator. The director is a responsible employee, which results in a report/communication to the Title IX Coordinator about any disclosures. To schedule a meeting, please call (540-654-1193) or email (prevention@umw.edu).

I want to talk to a counselor at the Talley Center...

Members of the Talley Center staff can assist you with any mental health issues that you might be experiencing. Counselors are available Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. at 540-654-1053. If you call after hours, you can leave a confidential voicemail and the office will reach out the next business day. A professional trained in crisis response can be reached any time after 5 p.m. or on the weekends by calling University Police at 540-654-1025. Talley Center counselors maintain full confidentiality, as allowed by law.

Who is a confidential employee?

Employees of the Talley Center, Student Health Center, and Athletic Trainers are not required to share information about sex or gender-based violence with the Title IX Coordinator. They will keep the information you share with them strictly confidential, unless you ask them to share with others.

Who is a responsible employee?

Most faculty and staff on campus are "responsible employees," which means they must report an incident involving sex or gender-based violence to UMW's Title IX Coordinator. The Title IX Coordinator will then reach out to you, typically via email, to offer resources, support, or answer questions. You may choose to respond to the Coordinator or not. You may choose whether to seek accommodations or not. If an alleged felony incident of sexual assault has occurred, an investigation may be required by law. You can choose to participate in the investigatory process or not.

TimelyCare

UMW students have access to TimelyCare; which provides on-demand, free access to mental health services, 24 hours a day, seven days a week, via the TimelyCare app or website. Some of the services provided by TimelyCare include TalkNow; where students can access immediate, on-demand emotional support for issues such as anxiety, depression, relationship concerns, and trauma recovery. Students can also schedule up to 12 virtual counseling appointments with a clinician of their choice on a day access to health coaching and a variety of self-care content. and time that is most convenient. Students also have to register, provide their UMW e-mail address at www.timelycare.com/UMW, and complete a brief registration form.

I want to talk to my professor or other UMW staff member...

Most faculty and staff, including campus police, are “responsible employees,” which means they must report the incident to UMW’s Title IX Coordinator. You can still talk to them, and they are eager to help you. Just be aware that they are legally required to report incidents of sex and gender-based violence, stalking, and harassment. Be mindful that other people may overhear your conversation if you talk to a “responsible employee” faculty or staff member because most of those settings are not designed with privacy in mind. For example, if you talk to a faculty member during office hours with the door open, a student in the hall may hear. If privacy is a concern, you may want to communicate with the professor or staff member ahead of time to ensure privacy and plenty of time to talk. Although all faculty and staff complete a mandatory Title IX training, most “responsible employees” do not have expertise in sex and gender-based violence and they may inadvertently say something that is not supportive. They might be surprised, or unsure of how to help. Consider bringing this resource guide to help guide the conversation, or follow up with a confidential resource, like the Talley Center or Student Health Center, or professionals who have completed training specific to helping people impacted by gender-based violence, like members of the Office of Title IX and ADA Compliance.

I want to talk to someone off campus...

If you are a victim/survivor of domestic violence or intimate partner violence, Empowerhouse provides a 24-hour hotline 540-373-9373 where advocates are available to listen, and help you plan for safety and assess your situation for risk. Advocates can also accompany you to court or the hospital, talk about shelter options, or connect you with a support group. All services are FREE and confidential. Don't have a car? Let the hotline advocates know and they will arrange options that may work for you.

If you are a victim/survivor of sexual assault, Rappahannock Council Against Sexual Assault (RCASA) provides a 24-hour crisis hotline 540-371-6771 through which you can gain support, ask questions, and find out what your options are. If you choose to go to the hospital or to court, an RCASA advocate can accompany and support you through the process. RCASA also offers individual counseling as well as group support. All services are free and confidential.

I need

After an assault you may be numbed by the emotional stress of the event and feel fine physically; however, it's important to seek medical care as soon as you are able. An advocate is specifically trained to support and provide you with your rights and treatment options, including the ways to handle transportation and the cost of your treatment. Consider reaching out to an advocate or staff member at the Talley Center, RCASA, or Empowerhouse as you seek treatment. You can also request hospital staff or Student Health Center Staff to contact an advocate on your behalf.

Medical professionals will complete a medical exam to address your physical health. In cases of sexual assault and physical violence, a forensic medical exam may be completed to collect and preserve forensic evidence.

It is important to receive medical care in order to:

- Be examined and treated for any injuries; some injuries such as strangulation or head trauma may not initially show symptoms but can later develop into a hazardous condition
- Be tested and treated for possible exposure to sexually transmitted diseases
- Discuss ways to reduce the risk of pregnancy, if applicable
- Collect medical evidence if you decide to report the assault to the police.

I want to get medical attention on campus...

The Student Health Center (SHC) providers can help with the identification, prophylaxis, and treatment of Sexually Transmitted Infections and conditions of sexual assault survivors. We provide physical exams and mental health consultations. An on-site pharmacy can provide you with some medications you might need. After hours, you can reach a nurse advice line via Fonemed by calling the SHC at 540-654-1040 and press 2. If you need specialized medical care, the SHC staff will help you make that process as smooth as possible. The SHC cannot perform a forensic medical examination. The SHC staff are confidential.

Concerned about cost?

Many services and medications provided at the SHC are low-cost or free of charge. Fees at the SHC are either charged to your student account or Eagle One card. You can make an appointment by calling 540-654-1040. The SHC is open daily 8am-5pm.

What can you expect?

Please call the SHC for an appointment so we can address your concerns. We always have same-day appointments available. Once at the SHC, you will check in and be brought back to the exam room by a nurse to be seen by a provider. If you have specific questions, write them down so you don't forget to ask while you are here. Remember that SHC staff are confidential.

While sexual assault exams are always covered by the Commonwealth of Virginia, there may be different coverage for domestic violence-related exams. Empowerhouse and RCASA may also be able to help. Contact the hotline 24 hours a day to talk to an advocate.

If you are considering a Forensic Medical Exam (sometimes called a PERK/SANE exam)...

- It is important that this be done sooner rather than later, to preserve evidence and ensure you receive prompt medical care.
- Do not bathe, wash, or douche. Try not to urinate if possible.
- If oral contact took place, do not smoke, eat, or brush your teeth.
- If you have already done some/all of these things, it is still worth obtaining a PERK/SANE exam. Forensic evidence may still be present for collection
- Go to the Mary Washington emergency room. It is also important to seek medical and mental health treatment. The hospital can also test you for sexually transmitted infections and provide emergency contraception if desired.
- If you've already changed clothes, place them in a paper bag (not plastic). If you haven't changed, keep the original clothes on, and bring an extra set to wear home. The clothes you are wearing could be used as evidence.

What is a forensic medical examination?

A comprehensive medical exam performed by a specially trained Sexual Assault Nurse Examiner \(SANE\) in instances of sexual assault. They provide specialized care for victims and have a specialized knowledge of the legal system and skills in injury identification, evaluation, and documentation. If possible, have the exam completed within 120 hours (5 days) of the assault.

Where do I get a forensic medical exam?

It is important that you receive treatment at a facility where the staff is trained to provide care for sexual assault and intimate partner survivors and know the correct methods for evidence collection. Currently, SANE nurses are available through the Mary Washington Hospital Emergency Room: 540-741-1000 or 911 (police emergencies).

Private physicians are typically not trained to perform forensic medical exams; however, they can counsel you on your options and refer you to the closest hospital or clinic where you can receive the exam. A primary care physician can assist you with physical injuries, as well as pregnancy and STI testing. Currently, SANE and FNE nurses are available through the 540-741-1000 or 911 (police emergencies).

Forensic exams can last several hours, but the important thing to remember is you have choices throughout the process. You can ask questions at any point and can change your mind if you decide to. If a support person (either a friend, family member, or advocate/staff member through Talley Center, Empowerhouse, or RCASA) would be helpful, they can be with you throughout the process. If you're not sure whether you want to report or not, you can talk with the SANE nurse about your evidence being held without being reported.

If you decide to go to your family physician or primary care provider, consider telling them what happened, as they can treat you for what is needed. Some physical examinations may be triggering or upsetting for you; you may consider discussing this with a medical or mental health professional prior to your exam or appointment.

What does the forensic medical exam cost?

The Commonwealth of Virginia will pay for the cost of the sexual assault forensic medical exam and the evidence can be stored for up to five years. However, health professionals are required to obtain authorization from law enforcement to perform forensic medical examinations for victims of physical assault.

What happens with the forensic medical exam after the evidence is collected?

If you are under the age of 18, your nurse or doctor will be required to report the incidence to the Department of Social Services. Having a forensic sexual assault medical exam completed does not mean you have to make the decision to file a criminal report or complaint with UMW. You can do a BLIND sexual assault forensic exam, which means that the evidence aka Physical Exam Recovery Kit (PERK) is kept anonymous. Domestic violence or physical assault cases do not have the option of keeping the evidence anonymous. Domestic violence victims must cooperate with criminal proceedings in order to have a forensic medical exam conducted.

If you choose to report your sexual assault to law enforcement, the police will take custody of the PERK from the SANE at the hospital and it will be sent to the Department of Forensic Science within 60 days. You have the right to be notified of the status and results of your PERK analysis. If you choose not to report the crime, your PERK kit will be stored for a minimum of two years. You can request for the PERK to be tested at any time.

Preserving evidence, including from a forensic exam performed by a SANE nurse, does not obligate the sexual ## assault survivor to pursue criminal charges or to appear in court.

After experiencing sex or gender-based violence, you have many options to ensure your safety and/or to hold the perpetrator responsible. All options are available to you, in any order, and in any combination.

I want the University to investigate...

I want the University to help me and to hold the perpetrator accountable... You may report directly to the Office of Title IX and ADA Compliance. They can help with housing and academic accommodations, information on the campus disciplinary process, medical assistance, reporting to law enforcement, and other support and resources. Please note that under Virginia law, the University is required to notify the police if a felony is reported.

I am afraid that I will get in trouble because I had been drinking... UMW will grant limited amnesty to a student who has been the victim of sex or gender-based violence or harassment from drug, alcohol, and other student conduct policies.

This happened when I was a freshman and I am now a senior. Can I still report? Can my perpetrator still be held accountable? There is no time limit for reporting to the University. However, UMW's ability to respond may diminish over time, as evidence may erode, memories may fade, and the perpetrator may no longer be affiliated with the University. However, help, resources, and support are still available to you.

I want to talk to the Fredericksburg Police Department...

I want to file for a Protective Order...

What is a Protective Order?

A Protective Order is a civil legal document issued by a judge or magistrate to protect the health and safety of a person who is alleged to be a victim of any act involving violence, force, or threat that results in bodily injury or places that person in fear of death, sexual assault, or bodily injury. If you are afraid of or intimidated by your abuser, a protective order may prevent the offender from contacting you or coming near you. The abuser can be arrested and jailed if they violate the protective order.

Where do I go to get a Protective Order?

If the person from whom you want protection is a family member or juvenile, you should go to the Juvenile and Domestic Relations Court (J&DR) at 615 Princess Anne Street in Fredericksburg. Call first (540-372-1068) to ensure a judge is available. For all other cases, go to the General District Court at 701 Princess Anne Street in Fredericksburg. The clerk can contact Victim Witness staffers if you need assistance. Remember: Cells phones are not allowed in either court building.

What should I bring with me when filing for a Protective Order?

You should bring the name, address, and identifying information of the person from whom you are seeking protection and a full description of the event that led you to seek a protective order. You should also bring your copy of the Emergency Protective Order and information about the warrant or petition alleging an act of violence, force, or threat, if either was issued.

Who will go with me?

You can request court accompaniment for emotional support from several service providers:

- The Victim Witness Assistance Program: 540-993-1660

I want to talk to an attorney....

For legal help, you can contact Legal Aid Works® to see if you qualify for free legal services.

What can an attorney do to help me?

An attorney can help you understand your rights, explain the legal system, and give you knowledgeable advice about your legal options as a survivor.

Will my meeting with a lawyer be confidential?

Yes. Attorneys will keep your information completely confidential and will not disclose what you discuss unless you specifically agree to disclose it.

Do I really need a lawyer?

Our legal system is designed to function best when each side in a dispute is represented by a lawyer.

Is the prosecutor my lawyer?

No. The prosecutor, called Commonwealth's Attorney in Virginia, represents the Commonwealth of Virginia if your perpetrator is charged with a crime. The Commonwealth's Attorney puts the perpetrator on trial and tries to get a criminal conviction against the perpetrator. At the criminal trial, the perpetrator has the right to be represented by a defense attorney. The prosecutor might call you as a witness to testify against the perpetrator.

If the violence against me is a crime, why would I want to consider going to civil court?

In civil court, you might want to consider other legal remedies besides having the perpetrator found guilty of a crime. You can ask an attorney about getting a protective order (which could prevent the perpetrator from contacting you) or filing a civil claim for money damages against the perpetrator.

How can I find a lawyer?

You can find a lawyer to give you advice in one of several ways. If you cannot afford to hire an attorney, you can see if you qualify for free legal services. Call Legal Aid Works® at 703-778-6800 to see if you are eligible (low income) www.legalaidworks.org.

You might ask friends or family members to refer you to an attorney they know and trust. You can call the Virginia Lawyer Referral Service (800-552-7977). You will be referred to an attorney who will give you 30 minutes of advice for a $35 fee. That is a good way to find out some basic information and decide if you need an attorney for your legal issue.

If you have a general legal question, go to <http://www.virginia.freelegalanswers.org/>. You can pose your question online and a volunteer attorney will answer your question for no charge.

Key Terms:

Please note that these are University of Mary Washington specific definitions. Criminal definitions may vary by state. If you are unsure, please contact the Police, Victim Witness, Empowerhouse, or RCASA.

What is Sexual Assault?

Sexual Assault is non-consensual bodily contact of a sexual nature. It includes any sexual contact when the Complainant does not or is unable to consent through the use of force, fear, intimidation, threats, physical helplessness, ruse, coercion, or incapacitation; intentional and non-consensual touching of or coercing, forcing or attempting to coerce or force another to touch a person's genital area, groin, inner thigh, buttocks or breast, clothed or unclothed; and non-consensual sexual intercourse, defined as anal, oral or vaginal penetration, however slight, with any body part or object.

What is Intimate Partner Violence?

Intimate Partner Violence (IPV) includes any act of violence or emotional abuse or threatened act of violence or abuse that occurs between individuals who are or have been in a sexual, dating, spousal, domestic, or other intimate relationship. Intimate Partner Violence may include any form of Prohibited Conduct under this Policy. Examples include: physical abuse of the Complainant by a spouse or partner, such as hitting, slapping, pushing, or strangling; sexual violence of the Complainant by a spouse or partner; and extreme verbal abuse of the Complainant by a spouse of partner. Intimate Partner Violence includes “dating violence” and “domestic violence,” as defined by the Violence Against Women Reauthorization Act of 2013 (“VAWA”).

What is Stalking?

Stalking occurs when a person engages in an intentional course of conduct directed at a specific person under circumstances that would cause a reasonable person to fear bodily injury or to experience substantial emotional distress. “Course of Conduct” means two or more acts, including but not limited to acts in which a person directly, indirectly, or through third parties, by any action, method, device, or means, follows, monitors, observes, surveils, threatens, communicates to or about another person, or interferes with another person’s property. “Substantial Emotional Distress” means significant mental suffering or anguish. Stalking includes “cyber-stalking,” a particular form of stalking in which a person uses electronic media, such as the internet, social networks, blogs, cell phones, texts, or other similar devices or forms of contact.

What is consent?

Consent is knowing, voluntary, and clear permission by word or action, to engage in mutually agreed upon sexual activity. Silence, in and of itself, does not constitute consent. Past consent to sexual activities, or a current or previous dating relationship, does not imply ongoing or future consent. Consent to some sexual contact (such as kissing or fondling) cannot be presumed to be consent for other sexual activity (such as intercourse). Once consent is clearly communicated as withdrawn, that withdrawal requires that the sexual activity cease. Someone who is forced, coerced, or incapacitated due to alcohol or drug use, mental disability, sleep, or involuntary physical restraints, cannot consent.

How do I know if I have suffered trauma?

Trauma is the exposure to actual or threatened death, serious injury, or sexual violence. This exposure can take the form of the person actually experiencing the event, directly witnessing the event occur to others, or learning persistent and significant details of the event that occurred to a close family member or friend. (APA, DSM-IV).

What is Amnesty?

Victims or witnesses of Prohibited Conduct who have been using alcohol or other drugs at the time of the incident might fear that they would “get into trouble” for having violated UMW’s alcohol or drug policies if they report. Recognizing the potentially devastating impact of Prohibited Conduct on not just the individual but on the UMW community, UMW will grant limited amnesty to the student(s) from drug, alcohol, and other student conduct policies, if their behavior did not put other individuals at risk.

Who is a Responsible Employee?

A Responsible Employee is a University employee who has the duty to disclose all reports of Prohibited Conduct to the University’s Title IX Coordinator. All University employees (except Confidential Employees, as defined in this Policy) are Responsible Employees, including student workers employed as Resident Assistants, Orientation Staff, Peer Mentors, and Graduate Teaching Assistants, when disclosures are made to them in their capacities as University employees. Responsible Employees, who in the course of employment, obtain information (directly or indirectly) about an incident(s) of Prohibited Conduct that may involve a student and/or incident(s) of Prohibited Conduct that may have occurred on campus, in or on a non-campus building or property, or on public property, shall report such information (including dates, times, locations, and names of the parties and witnesses) to the Title IX Coordinator as soon as practicable after addressing the immediate needs of the Complainant.

What is Title IX?

Title IX is a federal law that prohibits sex-based discrimination at educational institutions. It reads, "No person in the United States shall, on the basis of sex, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any education program or activity receiving Federal financial assistance."
